*In The Clouds
&
In the Stars*

“Every world needs a sky. Every sky needs a star. Every star needs a galaxy. Every galaxy needs a universe.”
– Matshona Dhliwayo

Jonathan Hansen expands his collection from Clouds out to the Stars. Inspired by the recent photos from NASA’s James Webb telescope that have captured stars and galaxies billions of light years away from Earth. The hand engraved In Stars collection now captures Stars and galaxies on the surface of the crystal vessels. Crystal is the perfect medium to express this imagery with the translucent material showing galaxies layered on top of each other much like space where stars and galaxies are layered within the Cosmos.

Reaching further out into space the collection brings the atmospheric depth of the cosmos down to earth and onto crystal in his collection, In the Stars... The pieces exude a material clarity, evoking a boundless space and a fresh, contemplative lightness.

Each piece in the collection is handmade and slightly different – a tactility that can only be felt in the perfection and imperfection of this craft. The lead free crystal vessels are mouth blown and hand engraved... made by master craftsmen of the Bohemian crystal tradition in the Czech Republic.

For the fall of 2023 the collection includes In the Stars in Dark Grey and In the Clouds in a brilliant Ruby color variation.
